Mortgage loan originators (MLOs) comprise the majority of NMLS users. On Sept. 20, their individual licensing experience will improve significantly. The enhancements will roll out in NMLS Connect, a new component of NMLS. Individuals will apply for and manage licensing activity directly in NMLS Connect while still having access to the classic system.

What's New?

- "My NMLS" homepage: A central hub for licensed individuals for quick access to tasks, licenses, and other key information.
- Streamlined workflows: Simplified processes for individuals and companies to access relationships and sponsorships.
- Smarter company tools: Improved search, greater centralization, and fewer steps to manage MLOs.
- License checklists in NMLS: In addition to continued access from the NMLS Resource Center, license requirements (checklists) will now be embedded directly in NMLS for the first time.

Built With You, For You

These updates were designed to reduce complexity and give MLOs and companies a smoother experience. By centralizing tools, cutting extra steps, and providing reliable self-service options, NMLS Connect makes licensing easier than ever.
