Re: Adjusting and Indexing Certain Regulatory Thresholds

Dear Ms. Jones:

The Conference of State Bank Supervisors 1 (“CSBS”) provides the following comments on the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (“proposal”) issued by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (“FDIC”) entitled Adjusting and Indexing Certain Regulatory Thresholds. 2

CSBS supports the FDIC’s efforts to tailor regulation and supervision in a manner that promotes safety and soundness and minimizes undue burden. We appreciate the FDIC considering our recommendation to raise and index the thresholds associated with Part 363 annual independent audit and reporting requirements. 3

The thresholds set forth in Part 363 determine when insured depository institutions must engage an independent public accountant, prepare annual reports on financial condition and internal controls, and establish independent audit committees. These requirements play an important role in promoting transparency and accountability. However, certain Part 363 asset thresholds have not been updated since 1993 or 2005, which has scoped in an increasing number of community banks whose risk profiles have not materially changed over the intervening decades. Adjusting and indexing these thresholds is a practical and appropriate step to help ensure that regulatory expectations remain aligned with institutional size and complexity.

State regulators support the FDIC’s proposed revisions to Part 363 asset thresholds. We look forward to continuing our work with the FDIC to promote appropriately tailored regulation and supervision.

Sincerely,

Brandon Milhorn
