Agency SEQ

1. Agency Administration and Finance

Purpose - This section evaluates the administration of the state regulatory agency and the financing of the agency's operations. Questions begin with the broad issues of agency mission and goals and then address specific areas, such as communication with other regulators, communication with industry, and adequacy of support personnel. Questions on financing address the funding mechanism for the agency and the adequacy of the budget with respect to the agency's ability to: (1) meet its supervisory requirements including chartering, licensing, examinations, and investigations; (2) provide adequate and up-to-date computer equipment; (3) monitor the agency budget; and (4) influence its budget allocation

Narrative - This section does not require or endorse a standard management style or funding mechanism. As demonstrated by the various standards, administrative organization must be documented by way of an organizational chart, mission statement, and strategic plan. However, no specific organization structure or mission statement is prescribed. Likewise, the agency may use a variety of means to fund itself, so long as the funding is sufficient for it to meet its responsibilities (and various accreditation standards).

2. Personnel and Training

Purpose - This section evaluates various aspects of the people side of the agency. The criteria assume that a superior agency provides a clear, adequate and consistent set of rules for the treatment of employees. Some of the criteria address the documents related to personnel policy, e.g., policy manuals and job descriptions. Other criteria address retention of professional staff. This section also evaluates the effectiveness of an agency's chosen method to train its staff. On-the-job training, formal classroom instruction and seminars can singly or jointly comprise an adequate training program. Whatever the mix, the program should maintain a high quality of instruction and be carried out on a routine basis.

Narrative - Agencies may wish to describe special efforts in the training and education areas, especially where local conditions require specific areas of expertise (e.g., agricultural lending, business loans). Quantitative measures of formal education completed by staff can be included, even though the number of classroom hours or courses completed may not, by themselves, identify an effective training program.

8. Credit Union - Examination

Purpose - This section and the following section (Supervision) cover those areas the public most closely regards as the main activities of a state credit union agency. In addition, federal agencies, before accepting the work product of a state credit union agency, need some assurance concerning the quality of that work product. Therefore, these sections raise numerous questions regarding work product and the department's ability to carry out the necessary steps to ensure consistently competent regulation, examination and supervision.

Narrative - These narratives lend themselves to both qualitative and quantitative measurements of agency success in completely and adequately examining state-chartered credit unions. Please specifically address these criteria, giving a justification for the rating. Please note areas where agency is taking remedial/corrective action to improve

Documentation - Documentation for this section could include a variety of agency-prepared items, including self-produced examination manuals, examination scheduling sheets, department-produced rating systems (where CAMELS Composite ratings are not used), formal statements of procedures to be followed before and after examination, and flow-sheets describing actual staff responsibilities for various examination tasks.
