Job Title: Consumer Credit Examiner – Consumer Credit Division

Salary: Salary based on consumer credit examination experience. Entry level base salary is $41,314 per year.

About this Job

The Indiana Department of Financial Institutions regulates consumer lending over a myriad of non-bank lenders located and operating within Indiana. Additionally, the DFI conducts compliance examinations over a variety of financial services entities. These include the following: State-chartered depository institutions, licensed lenders, non-lenders, rental purchase entities, pawnbrokers, debt management companies, mortgage lenders, check cashing, and money transmitter licensees.

Examiners will work in a dynamic and high performing environment, with a well identified career path and significant opportunities to progress throughout the organization. Examiners receive internal training and also formal schooling provided by the federal regulatory agencies and trade organizations.

About Indiana Department of Financial Institutions:

The DFI is an Indiana state government agency charged with regulating and overseeing the activities of state-chartered banks, credit unions, trust companies, and non-depository entities. The Department works directly with the institutions it regulates, and through examination and supervisory activities, endeavors to assure the public of adequate and proper services from such institutions. It is the DFI's mission to assure the protection of the interests of depositors, borrowers, shareholders, and consumers. The Department fosters growth in urban and rural communities across the State by promoting sound banking and consumer protection activities. The DFI is a dedicated-fund agency whose revenue is derived solely from supervision, examination, and license fees that are assessed to those institutions under its regulation. The DFI receives no tax money from constituents of the State.
